Anna Gregor

Selected Works

D. D. D. D. is excited to share new paintings by Anna Gregor as part of her Hunter MFA Thesis showing. Entitled World Animal the group show includes artists Anna Gregor, Anastasia Peña, Ian Myers, Jani Zubkovs, Sadaf Azadehfar, Vanessa Sandoval, and Xingyun Wang.

Beginning with traditional materials and art historical sources, Gregor's observational paintings problematize the stability of vision, the role the mind plays in organizing phenomena into coherence, and the process of constructing meaning from fragments of the past: personal, art historical, and communal.

Artist Biography

Anna Gregor (b. 1993 San Diego, California) is a painter based in New York City. She earned her BFA in 2019 at Parsons The New School for Design (New York, NY) and is currently pursuing her MFA in Painting at CUNY Hunter College (New York, NY). The thematic and technical foundations of Gregor's work include the materials of painting, their histories, and the history of the representation of space. By recombining diverse historical material and representational techniques, her paintings propose a new conception of space built from fragments of the old: a multi-dimensional space with conflicting pictorial paradigms that must be actively discovered and constructed by a viewer from the painting's form. Gregor's work has been exhibited in three solo shows (Double Space (2024) at D. D. D. D. in New York, NY, Visions and Revisions (2023) at Moira Fitzsimmons Arons Art Gallery in Hamden, CT, and Embodiments (2022) at Tomato Mouse in Brooklyn NY) and various group shows. Her work can be found at www.atgregor.com and on Instagram under @anna_t_gregor.
